DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless -

- (e) the invention was described in-
- (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effect under this subsection of a national application published under section 122(b) only if the international application designating the United States was published under Article 21(2)(a) of such treaty in the English language; or
- (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that a patent shall not be deemed filed in the United States for the purposes of this subsection based on the filing of an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a).
- 2. Claims 2, 15, 65, 66, and 69-74 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Vercaemer et al. (US 6,085,838).

Vercaemer et al. includes all the limitations of claims 2 and 15 including: positioning and injecting two fluids (claim 1) and positioning, displacing, and decoupling (figures 5-7 and claim 1).

With respect to the dependent claims, Vercaemer et al. also teaches: releasable coupling (figures 5-7 and claim 1)-claim 65; injecting a hardenable sealing material (claim 1)-claim 66; maintaining the cone in a stationary position prior to expansion (column 7, lines 6-65)-claim 69; longitudinal force (claim 1)-claim 70; casing/pipe/support (background)-claims 71-73; and pressurizing the annular chamber (claims 1)-claim 74.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

- 3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:
 - (a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negatived by the manner in which the invention was made.
- 4. Claim 68 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Vercaemer et al. (US 6,085,838) in view of Forsyth et al. (US 6,029,748).

 As discussed above, Verceamer et al. includes all the limitations of claim 68 with the exception of lubricating the expansion cone. Forsyth et al. teaches lubricating an expansion cone (column 4, lines 46-65). Further, it is well known in the mechanical arts to lubricate the interface between two mechanical parts in order to reduce friction. Thus at the time of the invention it would have been obvious for one having ordinary skill in the art to have lubricated the cone of Vercaemer et al., in the manner of Forsyth et al., in order to reduce frictions.

Allowable Subject Matter

- 5. Claims 17-64 are allowed.
- 6. Claims 67 and 75-81 are objected to as being dependent upon a rejected base claim, but would be allowable if rewritten in independent form including all of the limitations of the base claim and any intervening claims.
